

STRUCTURED INTERVIEW GUIDE FOR THE HAMILTON DEPRESSION RATING SCALE (SIGH-D)

Janet B.W. Williams, D.S.W.

This interview guide is based on the Hamilton Depression Rating Scale (Hamilton, Max: A rating scale for depression. J Neurol Neurosurg Psychiat 23:56-61, 1960). The anchor point descriptions, with very minor modifications, have been taken from the ECDEU Assessment Manual (Guy, William, ECDEU Assessment Manual for Psychopharmacology, Revised 1976, DHEW Publication No. (ADM) 76-338). A reliability study of the SIGH-D has been reported (Williams JBW: A structured interview guide for the Hamilton Depression Rating Scale. Archives of General Psychiatry 45:742-747, 1988).

INVENTORY OF DEPRESSIVE SYMPTOMATOLOGY – CLINICIAN RATED (IDS-C)

Rush, A.J., Gullion, C.M., Basco, M.R., Jarrett, R.B. and Trivedi, M.H. The Inventory of Depressive Symptomatology (IDS): Psychometric properties. Psychological Medicine, 26:477-486, 1996.

INSTRUCTIONS TO INTERVIEWERS:

The first question for each item (in bold print) should be asked exactly as written. Follow-up questions are provided for further exploration or additional clarification of symptoms. The specified questions should be asked until you have enough information to rate the item confidently. You may also have to add your own follow-up questions to obtain necessary information. If the answer to a specified question is already known, it is sufficient to confirm the information with the subject (e.g., "You said that..."), make the rating, and continue. The final score for each item should reflect an assessment and balancing of the severity and frequency of the symptom.

Note that patients with chronic symptoms may not be able to identify a period of normalcy or may report that "depressed" is their usual state. However, depression should not be rated as "normal" (i.e., a rating of "0") in these cases.
